

Search Query Generation

Abstract of the Disclosure

Methods and systems provide automatic search generation capabilities. A search constraint and a control field identifier are received. A search generating module generates a search that when executed returns 5 records from a data store. The records satisfy the search constraint and have identical values for the control field identifier for unique customer identifications.